About Me:

Hi, I'm Cristiano Naidoo, a Bachelor of Computer and Information Sciences student at Varsity College Durban North. Through my studies, I have developed foundational knowledge in programming, software development, and IT systems, with a focus on languages like C#, Java, alongside database systems such as Oracle and MySQL, and creating websites with ASP.NET.

In addition to my technical background, my experience in sales and administration has strengthened my communication, problem-solving, and organizational skills. I'm passionate about technology, eager to learn, and adaptable—qualities that position me to contribute effectively to a technical role and grow within the industry.
